There is no option to set time from it. When i check the time it says its 12:00 and when i set it manually its also 12:00 no change. No help

This might seem like a dumb question but I can't seem to find it. I have changed my time and date several times in the past, but now it won't let me. I know I can manually change the time and date, but that is a pain. What is the path to find where the time and date are set? Thank you. I have recently had some problems with my system date and time, and thought that a program called Time and Date would help. I was not able to find it in the control panel under Date and Time. Then I tried to run the file attached in my download post, and it opened and asked me to run it. I ran it and it said to me that the information about my time and date was being altered. I ran it again and it said that it had changed the date but the time was still wrong. I ran it a third time and this time it worked. I then tried to restart my computer and the date and time has not been altered since.

X-J, I hope this finds you well. I just wanted to make sure that we were still close after all these months. I am sorry that the timing worked out the way it did. I had the opportunity to go back for my last quarter and I chose not to. I have been mulling over the decision for a while and it didn't take me very long to make it. Although, it was a huge pain in the ass. In any case, if you are open to discussing it, I have a few questions that I am dying to ask you. First of all, I would like to know how you ended up in the analyst program. I would also like to know if Enron
